

President's Message

Well it seems the return to the Premiership is finding a bit of a bumpy road for Mark Warburton and the team .To think a newly promoted team would challenge for the title is a bit farfetched, but a nice next step would be a spot in Europe next year. Come out and support them, win or lose...Nothing beats the atmosphere at the club when the game is on

After a couple club events that didn't get much support, Gordon Brown has brought in a Dean Martin/ Frank Sinatra revue show Saturday November 5th at 8pm $20 including some light food Come and live out the Rat Pack days in Las Vegas

Speaking of Vegas, The NARSA 2017 Convention is 90% sold out! Tickets for individual night will go on sale November 1st , subject to availability

The Executive would like to invite all members to the club on Christmas Eve. .A drink for you and your significant other will be waiting for you, Danny Mills will be entertaining us that day

The club is still looking for barman...If you could spare a few hours a week or even a shift or two a month, it would be greatly appreciated. Speak to Tony Matthews.

The October meeting is Sunday October 30th .It will be a very significant meeting for our club going forward, Both nominations for the 2017 Executive and the membership fees will be on the slate

Come out and keep your club the best Rangers Club in the world!!!

Secretary's Report

Outshot 8 -3 and beat 1 - 0. Yesterday's League Cup Semi Final is yet another example of how much work Rangers have to do to compete at the highest level our nation has to offer. Other than Jason Holt's one opportunity the other two shots we had are completely forgotten. Kenny Miller ran flat out for 70 mins but too often he was found deep in his own half. To be most effective Kenny Miller should have been seen running through the middle at the opponent's goals. Shortly after Kenny was off the park, we looked puffed out. Halliday, Windass and Tavernier, who was playing in a more forward roll, appeared to have little left in the tank. McKay had little impact on the game. Matt Gilks was our best player yesterday, Lee Hodson was all business but needs more playing time and Clint Hill and Rob Kiernan held their own, while captain Lee Wallace was surprisingly quiet. In order to lead and champion the Scottish game a Rangers Manager needs more resources to field a winning team either scouting, pounds, tactics, fitness expertise or experience. Our summer signings haven't shown us the level of quality to take the playing squad up a level. We should not have looked that fatigued against a team that played champions league football mid week.

Our next meeting, October 30th will include a discussion regarding our current dues structure. Please plan to attend if you would like to participate in the discussion

Nominations for the Executive will be received at the October Meeting, all positions are open

Bar Manager, Tony Matthews would like to thank Paul McDonald for stepping into the breach and taking a bar shift when no one else could. Who will follow in Paul's footsteps and take a turn?
